Reasons why you should invest in your employee's online training with UXLx 2020

1 60 hours of online learning on what's ahead

UXLx is most of all an incredible online learning opportunity, with 18 intensive workshops and 10 inspirational talks. And they're packed with new ideas and techniques that can be carried over into everyone's daily work. Our selection of workshops is not only timely and relevant, it provides a groundwork for years of professional practice ahead.

3 Networking with peers from 40 countries

There are plenty of online networking opportunities and social activities during the day. UXLx attracts 500 attendees from a wide range of fields and dimensions so it's the perfect place to see what others are doing, share new ideas, build relationships, and make connections with others within the field. Our speakers are always willing to chat so they also mingle with the attendees outside sessions, in our new and exciting online activities.

5 Skipping extra expenses and saving time

Unlike in-person events where costs with travel, hotel and food add up, the only cost you have is the registration fee. And you'll also find that the online conference ticket is less expensive than a regular ticket. Plus, there's no need to spend time booking flights or hotels and attendees won't spend any travel time to get to the conference.

2 A world class line-up of speakers

We've gathered a fantastic range of world-renowned experts, most of them published authors and seasoned speakers. We encourage our speakers to join online live networking sessions, so there's always the opportunity to have one-on-one chats with them.

4 A truckload of knowledge to bring back to your team

We provide exclusive access to sessions' materials and decks, and compile all the knowledge gathered in the event into a pack your employee can take away to share with the rest of the team. After the conference, organising a Redux session is the best way to share all of the main insights with the teammates. To top it off, we end up releasing the videos from the talks throughout the year, creating new opportunities to spark discussions around the topics.
